Callas's Story

Give A Mile

Calla is a busy single mother who is currently working on her PhD. and is the Chairperson for the Canadian Centre for Gender and Sexual Diversity (CCGSD) in Ottawa. Her mother, Debbie, was recently admitted to ARCH Hospice, but it had been nearly a year since the two had last seen each other. Until the Give a Mile program worked it's magic, both Calla and Debbie didn't think they'd have another opportunity to spend time together before Debbie's passing.

When Debbie and her wife, Jeanne, were offered the opportunity to apply for the Give a Mile's Mother's Day promotion, they were ecstatic. Debbie had friends and family across the country whom she would love to have the opportunity to see one last time. Once the plethora of visitors had gone for the day, Debbie and Jeanne discussed whom Debbie might like to fly home. Debbie chose Calla.

Chandra, Debbie and Jeanne's younger daughter, believes her mother chose Calla because she knew how meaningful and uplifting it would be for the whole family if Calla was able to come home to Sault Ste. Marie. It was also crucial for Calla to go home as she needed to be a part of Debbie's palliative journey to find her peace. The family describes Calla's visit home as a miracle weekend that allowed Calla the opportunity to say goodbye.

It meant the world to Debbie to have her two daughters by her side, even if it was only for a short time. It was still enough time for Calla and Chandra, together at ARCH Hospice, to create a photo and video memory collection for their mother while she rested. She was creating the group provided the sisters an opportunity to connect and create a heartwarming slideshow for Debbie to enjoy with friends and family at this stage in her journey.

"Calla's visit gave everyone a role," stated her sister Chandra. "It brought us together." Calla's visit also helped guide Chandra in how to be a support to her mother, Jeanne, and continue to be a loving presence for Debbie. Give a Mile was more than a flight it was a reunion of sisters, a strengthening of relationships, a final goodbye made beautifully.

Volunteer Services

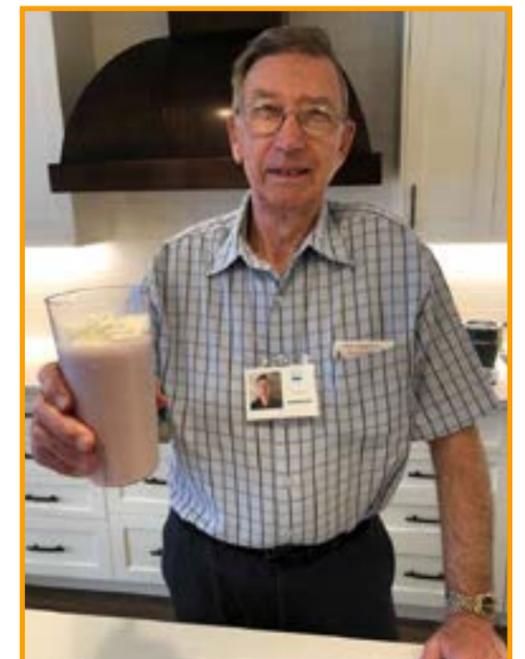

Daily, we see humanity in its purest form through the work of our volunteers. We are lucky enough to be supported by more than 140 volunteers who graciously donate their time to do any number of things from sitting with our residents and sharing stories, to baking cookies and doing laundry. They are essential members of our team who bring such incredible energy to the Hospice. They always remind us to enjoy every moment and give what you can, when you can, because even the simplest gestures can have a tremendous impact. We are so fortunate to have such a dynamic, compassionate team of volunteers.

They are also champions, advocating for ARCH Hospice in the community, helping to keep our outdoor spaces beautiful, fixing odds and ends, and participating in fundraising events.

- Volunteering can help protect your mental and physical health. It can reduce stress, combat depression, keep you mentally stimulated, and provide you with a sense of purpose.
- The smallest tasks can make a difference. Baking or helping plant fresh flowers has an immediate effect – the smell of fresh baking floods through the halls and brings people to our kitchen where they are able to sit and enjoy another's company; beautiful gardens provide a space where residents and their loved ones can enjoy colorful sights and natural sounds.
- Dedicating your time as a volunteer helps you make new friends, expand your network, and boost your social skills. It allows you to be a part of something bigger than yourself.

Executive of the Year!

Influential Women of Northern Ontario 2019

We thank Theresa for the hard work and dedication that continues to make our workplace what it is today. We are very proud.

When Theresa moved to Sault Ste, Marie, Ont., she had no idea the six months she planned to be here would turn into 16 years. Originally from Nova Scotia, Theresa and her husband Nathan, were brought to Sault Ste Marie when her husband accepted a short-term contract. Shortly after arriving they both fell in love with what they now call home, Northern Ontario.

With a background in Health Administration, Theresa was motivated to have her career in health care. "I researched grant funding opportunities and presented a portfolio to the vice-president at Sault Area Hospital," said Theresa. "That interested him. He was surprised I'd take the initiative." She later started as a corporate planning analyst, and within two years, started working in operations management, corporate planning, and governance management. After ten years at the Sault Area Hospital, Theresa came into her current role at ARCH almost unexpectedly. After a friend directed her to a posting stating; "Theresa, I saw this. I think you'd be perfect." He was right!

Theresa fell in love with the beauty and level of appreciation that hospice care holds. She declares it is second to none. Our Director Theresa has always been drawn to helping others; however, credits her Grade 5 teacher, Mrs. Reid for her current success professionally and personally. "She was one of the most pivotal people in my life because she believed in me, "I look back at my life and have so much gratitude for her because I wouldn't be where I am today had I not had that influence," says Theresa.

"I don't think we ever truly know the ripples we create in our lives," said Theresa. "But the idea that we can all make them gives me great joy." - Theresa Mudge.

Our 2019 Hospice Heroes!

We are so honoured to serve along with you!

Cheryl Schultz Staff of the Year

There is a word in Finnish called 'sisu' that captures the spirit of Cheryl. While untranslatable in any other language, it refers to stoic determination, hardiness, courage, bravery, willpower, tenacity and resilience. In essence, it's an action-oriented mindset where you don't brag about having sisu; you just let your actions do the talking.

We honour Cheryl as our Hospice Hero. Wonderfully authentic, practical, kind, and creative, our families and entire team appreciate her down to earth nature. A natural teacher, she mentors nursing students, staff, and other health professionals throughout our community. A straight-shooter with an incredible sense of humour, we enjoy many laughs with Cheryl who makes others feel incredibly at ease. A deeply caring professional, we appreciate her humility and high sense of in all she does.

Jackie McEwen Volunteer of the Year

The heart of a volunteer is not measured in size, but in the depth of commitment to make a difference in the lives of others. These words exemplify how Jackie McEwen has made an impact in our community, on those she loves, and on those she serves at Hospice.

Jackie shares her warmth as she welcomes all who visit Hospice. Her humility, grace, and unconditional love leave a lasting impression. She has a gift of making people feel special and can bring joy on a difficult day. It makes us smile as she shares her love of gardening and birds with all of us each year, inviting the community to experience her beautiful gardens as an ARCH fundraiser. We're in awe of Jackie and the love she puts in the details.

Drumming Circle

ARCH Hospice is blessed to have drum circles held monthly for our residents, family members, volunteers, and staff to access. The drum circles have been happening for over a year, and every circle is unique.

Liz Fera, while visiting her family member was invited to join in on one of the drumming circles. She had never been a part of anything like this and was not sure how it would impact her. Liz enjoyed her experience so much, she bought herself a drum and has been drumming ever since. She has created her own rhythms and beats and says it has helped her during this difficult time.

"I enjoyed being a part of the circle; I found the drumming vibrations very healing and the women very welcoming. We are so lucky to have the drumming circle at ARCH to help people going through a struggle. The drum is a very ancient instrument used by many cultures, and anyone and everyone can play it. The healing benefits are immense; it makes you very mindful, and you can meditate to the vibrations. I plan on playing my drum every day, and I am so thankful for this program." Thank you, Liz, for sharing this inspiring story with us. We extend our gratitude to the drummers who choose ARCH as a place to gather! Your kindness is invaluable.

Hospice Stories

Pet Therapy

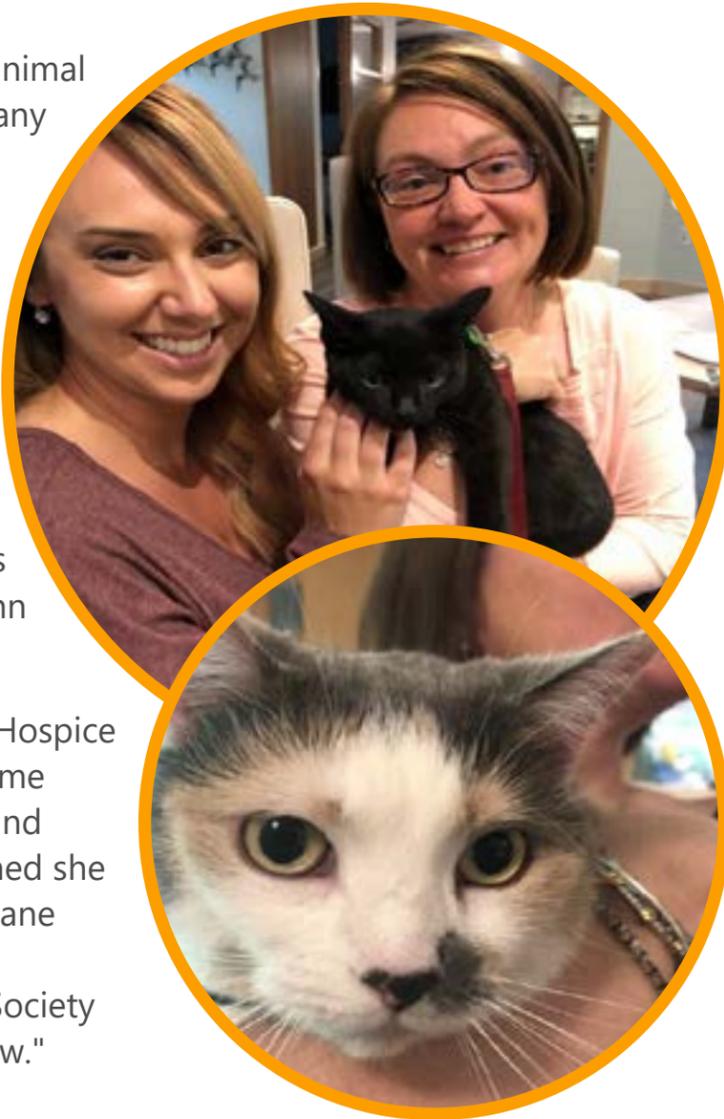

My husband, John Myles, and I are both animal lovers. Over the years, we adopted our many pets from the Sault Ste. Marie Humane Society. John was a dedicated volunteer on their Board of Directors for years.

When John was in ICU after suffering a major stroke, I brought in friendly visitors for him. The Humane Society graciously lent me one of their cat for visiting John in intensive care. I also brought in one of our cats several times. The friendly visits brought so much joy and comfort to John and I during a difficult time.

In the Fall, I began volunteering at ARCH Hospice with my puppy Raven, hoping to bring some joy, happiness, and comfort to residents and their families. When one resident mentioned she preferred kitties to dogs, I asked the Humane Society if they had a suitable kitten with a calm demeanor to borrow. The Humane Society generously loaned their little "Jack Sparrow."

Jack fondly snuggled up to the resident purring and sleeping away while she was petting him for roughly an hour. It was very heartwarming and rewarding to see, and I hope it brought some happiness to the resident. I've also brought my cat, Flashy, to visit as well. I am grateful and honored to be able to bring my pets to ARCH and hopefully bring some joy during our visits to the residents and families.

- Krista Ryall.
